Techorizon

The Features

Powerful Document Management.

With Customer Portal, you can share study documents just by deciding who can view them and who can update them.

In addition, you can build and collect Trial Master Files or Investigators' Study Files, assigning workflow approvals for each individual document.

A real document management system at the click of a button.

Bringing together all the information.

In Customer Portal, you can gather together all of the reports that are usually stored in different applications.

This allows customers to produce a range of reports from a single tool: recruitment reports, laboratory reports, eCRF completion reports and more.

Powerful tools for collaboration.

Have you ever thought about how much time and money is lost using separate media and communication tools?

With Customer Portal, everything is in one simple portal. No other tools are needed to work together.

Document repository and management reporting: Study e-mails calendar, Blog, Support requests.

With more than 15 years of experience in the life sciences sector and the proven satisfaction of our clients, we are confident that we can find and tailor a technological solution to help you with your project!
